OF THE ESTATE. Provision Made for Keeping Together Mr. Huntington's Holdings of Southern Pacific Stock -$1,000,000 in Trust for the Princess Hatzfeldt-Not to Pay Her Husband's Debts - Russell Sage Admires the Will.

The will of Collis P. Huntington, which was filed for probata yesterday, showed what had been taken as a matter of course in Wall Street ever since Mr. Huntington's death—that his holdings in Southern Pacific and other companies would not be thrown upon the market. The will does not disclose the total value of the estate. The clause disposing of the Southern Pacific stock follows: "Lwill and direct that all shares of the capital stock of the Southern Pacific company which may belong to me at the time of my death shall, subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter expressed, be dealt with and disposed of as follows, viz: In case my wife, Arabella D. Huntington, shall survive me, I give and bequeath to her two-thirds part of all such shares, and the remaining one-third part thereof to my nephew, Henry Edwards Huntington, or in case he should not survive me, to his son, Howard Huntington. In case my wife, Arabella D. Huntington, should not survive me, then I give and bequeath one-half part of all such shares to my son, Archer Milton Huntington, or, in case he should not survive me, to the lawful issue of the said Archer Milton Huntington living at the time of my death, in equal parts or shares per stirpes, but not per and the remaining one-half part thereof to my nephew, Henry Edwards Huntington, or in case he should not survive me, to his son, Howard Huntington In case neither the said Henry Edwards Huntington nor the said Howard Huntington shall survive me, then I give and bequeath all shares of the capital stock of the Southern Pacific company belonging to me at the time of my death to my wife, Arabella D. Huntington, if she should survive me, or if she should not survive me, then to my son, Archer Milton Huntington; but if neither the said Arabella D. Huntington nor the said Archer Milton Huntington should survive me, then to the lawful issue of the sald Archer Milton Huntington living at the time of my death in equal parts or shares per stirpes, but not per capita.

the Southern Pacific company are made upon and subject to the following terms, provisions and conditions, that is to say: In case the said Henry Edwards Huntington and either the said Arabella D. Huntington or Archer Milton Huntington should survive me, the shares so bequeathed to said Henry Edwards Huntington and to the said Arabella D. Huntington or Archer Milton Huntington shall not nor shall any part thereof be sold or disposed of during the lifetime of either of the legatees who may have so become entitled to receive the same except with the consent of both such legatees or of the survivor of them."

Mr. fluntington also left this advice as a part of the will relative to the selling of the "I would suggest to the said Itenry Edwards fluntington and Arabella D. Huntington and Archer Milton Huntington, that sales of such portions of said stock as they may receive inder the foregoing provisions of this my will shall not be made except pro rata or substantially pro rata with shares of stock of said company belonging to the successors in interest of my former associates, Mark Hopkins, Leland Stanford and Charles Crocker; but this suggestion is not to be in any wise legally or equitably operative or binding upon my legatees or to restrict in anywise their free action in dealing with such stock, but is merely made for the purpose of indicating the mode and manner in which I should have preferred to make sales of such stock if I had lived, and in which I should prefer that such sales be made after my death; but, notwithstanding this, suggestion, the legatees of my said stock are to be at liberty to deal with the same according to their own judgment, except as limited by the terms, conditions and limitations hereinbefore expressly prescribed in respect to sale, or disposition thereof during the lifetime of the said legatees or the survivor of them."

The will is dated March 13, 1897. Its executors are Arabella D. Huntington, the testator's widow, Charles H. Tweed and Isaac E. Gates, the latter Mr. Huntington's brother-in-law. abstract of the several articles of the will as prepared for the public by Mr. Tweed yes-terday follows:

Russell Sage commented favorably upon the Huntington will vesterday afternoon, and said that he would like to have a full copy of it because it was such a sensible document. Mr. Sage was particularly pleased with the way in which Mr. Huntington had provided for keeping his Southern Pacific stock from being placed on the market as the result of his death.

The opinion which pravailed generally in Wall Street was that the Huntington heirs will not sell their stock. There were only 800 shares of Southern Pacific dealt in yesterday. The closing price was 33%, a net loss from the closting of the day hefore of ½.

Dennis Kearney was quoted in Wall Street closing price was 33%, a net loss from the closing of the day before of 5.

Dennis Kearney was quoted in Wall Street yesterday as having written this account of a conversation with Mr. Hightington to the San Francisco Bulletin:

"I had a talk with Mr. Huntington a day or two before he left for the East. I asked him about buying Southern Profite stock. He said: "If you buy it and hold it for five years, I will guarantee that you will not lose any money, for by that time I shall have the road on a dividend-paying basis." I said: 'But, Mr. Huntington, suppose you should die—what then? He replied: 'Why, there is Ed (H. E. Huntington). No better boy ever lived. He has been with me twenty-eight years and knows a thing or two about rail-roads. I'll trust him."

TO SELL OUR COAL ABROAD.

Baltimore and Ohio Going Into the Business on an Extensive Scale.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24.-Mr. Walter Anker, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, is in Europe looking over the foreign field as a market for American coal. Mr. Anker has been abroad about three weeks and is expected to remain until October. He will visit the chief ports of Great Britain and the Continent and carefully note those that afford the best facilities for handling coal. Chairman of the Board salomon, President Cowen, General Superin tendent Fitzgerald and Director Bacon of the Baltimore and Ohio have been in the coal region tapped by their system for several days in vestigating the condition of the industry with a view to increasing the output of the mines and the facilities of the road for hand-mines and the facilities of the road for hand-ling this class of traffic. After many confer-ences it was decided to build extensive docks at Curtis Bay.

Construction of the docks has been under way for several months and it is announced that they will be completed within three weeks. The docks and approaches are about 1,200 feet long and are the largest on the Atlantic sea-board. Four ships can load alongside them at one time. They will contain all modern inboard. Four ships can load alongside them at one time. They will contain all modern improvements and are designed especially for the accommodation of transatiantic freighters. There is also talk to the effect that the Baltimore and Ohio may build a feet of its own if it fails to make satisfactory terms with an independent company. The Chesapeake and Ohio operates its own steamers between Newport News, Va., and England, and is well satisfied with the service. Men who are behind the movement to operate the feet in connection with the Baltimore and Ohio have calculated on the possibilities of obtaining cargoes at both domestic and foreign ports, and are convinced that the venture would pay.

The Baltimore and Ohio is also paying more attention to anthracite coal. This is cited as an additional reason for its desire to obtain control of the New Jersey Central, though the valuable terminals of the latter at Jersey City would seem to be the chief reason for such a deal.

Court Justice Sewell, dissolving the Mercantile Cooperative Bank of Manhattan and declaring its corporate rights, privileges and franchises forfeited to the State. HUNTER ARREST ORDER VACATED. Mr. Hunter's Reinstatement on the Stock Exchange Now Expected in Wall Street. The order of arrest against Arthur M. Hunter, the suit of Gurley & Johnson of Washington, in the suit of Gurley & Johnson of Washington, was vacated yesterday by Justice Freedman with costs of $10 imposed on the Washington brokers. This is supposed in Wall Street to precede Mr. Hunter's settlement with his creditors and his reinstatement on the New York Stock Exchange.

In his decision Justice Freedman says: "It appears that the real cause of action which the plaintiff has is for the recovery of the balance due upon the account and not for a conversion."

'Bradstreet's" Weekly Failure Reports.

Bradstreet's reports 135 failures in the United states during the week, against 168 for the previous week, and 154, 172, 210 and 320 for the corresponding weeks of 1889 to 1896. The Middle States had 44, New England 25, Southern 13, Western 38, Northwestern 9, Pacific 6 and Territories 2. Canada had 29 against 24 for the preceding week. About 86 per cent. of the total number of concerns failing had capital of $5,000 or less, and 112 per cent. had from $5,000 to $20,000 capital. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The professional element that has been active on the long side of the market recently undertook to sell a few stocks to-day, with the result of lowering prices fractionally throughout nearly the list. There were no developments to influence the selling; on the contrary, the news was, in the main favorable. Washington advices disposed of yesterday's rumors of an impending extra session of Congress and Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance to the Populists is not calculated to increase confidence in the success of his campaign. The increase in the gross traffic returns of the St. Paul company for the third week in the current month was, like many other minor developments, ignored in the narrow speculation. The efforts to market speculative holdings were quickly detected and naturally encouraged room traders play the short side of the market. They did so, however, on a very moderate scale because of the extreme dulness.

The only two stocks in which the dealings were approximately active were Brooklyn Rapid Transit and People's Gas. The first named sustained a net loss of nearly a point. People's Gas after an early decline recovered nearly all of the ground lost. There was some effective selling of Sugar Refining on the theory that aggressive hostilities between the company and some of its competitors are likely to be resumed. The publication this morning of the fairly good showing by the Tennessee Coal and Iron Com-pany encouraged some buying of the common stock of that corporation. Profit taking caused a net decline of 1% per cent. in Consolidated Gas, which was the greatest net fluctuation recorded. The usual compilation of the known movements of money this week Indicates that the banks have received, principally from the Sub-Treasury, nearly $7,500,000. If these transfers of money are fully reflected in the bank statement to-morrow, the greater part of last week's loss in lawful money will have been recovered. The closing was dull and, in the main, heavy.

The local movements of money this week are described by the New York News Bureau as follows: The known movements of money in the week ending at the close of business yesterday indicate a gain in cash by the local banks of $7.452.027. The decrease in surplus reserve shown in the bank statement of last Saturday was $7.568.900. The banks this week gained by the direct interior express movement $1.862.027. The excess of rayments by the New York Sub-Treasury, mainly on account of red-motions of the old 2 per cent bonds, was $5.590.000. Of course, the averages of the Associated Banks may not show more than a partial amount of this gain, as the disbursements extended throughout the week. Several of the local banking houses that regularly receive money from Pacific Coast points say that they expect consignments within a few days. It is considered probable in usually well informed circles that the banks will show to-morrow another increase in loans, due to borrowing on foreign exchange. The banks received direct by express from the interior $2.879.727 and shipped $1,017.700. In the privious week the receipts amounted to $2.824.575 and there was shipped $1,417.700, a gain on the movement of $1,406.875. It will be noted that the shipments this week show a decrease of about $400.000. The shipments of currency to the South have not as yet reached noteworthy proportions and the movement of money to and from Canada was also inconsiderable. The disbursements by the New York Sub-Treasury to-day on account of the redemption of the old 2 per cent bonds amounted to $351,000,000, making the aggregate payments on this account since last Saturday $5.303.832. Washington advices this morning reported that the banks still have over $7,000,000 of these bonds placed against circulation and to secure public deposits and that there is in addition over $4.000,000 of these bonds placed against circulation and to secure public deposits and that there is in addition over $4.000,000 of these bonds pla ase in rates.
